FEBRUARY PROGRAM

Ben Owen Slide Presentation

Time: 7:00 pm

Date: Friday, February 3, 2012

“Ben Owen III (B. 1968) has made pottery for sale since he was 13 years old at the site where his grandfather and father established the Old Plank Road Pottery in the Seagrove area of Piedmont North Carolina in 1959. He worked at the potter's wheel during high school and in the early 1990s while in college. He produced work in the shapes, glazes and traditions of his grandfather. As he grew older and more experienced, he traveled in the US attending workshops and conferences.

He also traveled abroad, to Japan, Australia, New Zealand and to Europe and recently to China where he diversified his experience while taking advantage of an exchange program and visiting local artist.

Over the years, Ben has been com-missioned to make work for Bob Hope, Perry Como, Elizabeth Taylor, Ronald Reagan and recently making a special gift for musical artist James Taylor as a lifetime achievement award on behalf of the University of North Carolina. He has been the recipient of many awards and honors, including NC Living treasure in 2004 and being featured in the 2005 N.C. Museum of Art show "The Potters Eye".

MEETING MINUTES

TPG January 2012

Business Meeting

Recorded by: Neal O'Briant

President Jo Ellen Westmoreland welcomed returning members, new members, and guests.

Minutes: Recording Secretary Neal O'Briant asked if anyone had changes to the minutes from December as posted in the newsletter. Minutes were approved.

Library Report: Christina Sydor thanked Chris Schafele for donating about a dozen books to the library. Christina said that the two journals the library receives, Ceramics Technical and Ceramics Art and Perspective, do not get much use. She asked if there were strong objections to dropping the subscriptions. No one objected.

Corresponding Secretary's Report: Jo Ellen reported for Joanne Wood that the newsletter had gone out to all the members. Contact Joanne if you did not receive it. She is up to date with her membership list.

Treasurer's Report: Elise Stiles reported that there are almost 90 members. The guild's bank account balance is roughly $6,500, which includes workshop registration money.

Workshop Committee Report:

Donna Kanich reported that the workshop was full. There are 36 participants signed up, with 30 of them being guild members plus six other participants. Jo Ellen reminded members that the guild's meeting in February will be at 6:30 before the Friday night of the workshop. She encouraged members to get to the Crafts Center early since that night of the workshop will be open to the public.

Refreshments: Jo Ellen thanked Carol Clark for bringing refreshments. Eoline Killough volunteered to bring refreshments in March.

President's Report: Jo Ellen announced that there were T-shirts available for purchase at $15 per shirt. These were the T-shirts leftover from several years ago. She still needs volunteers for a nominating committee.

New Business and announcements: Jo Ellen announced that there were spaces available in several Crafts Center pottery classes, including Julie Olsen's flower pots and sets with trays, Conrad Weiser's raku workshop, and Cheryl Weisz's art business class. Chris Schafele announced that she had some books for sale that the library had copies of already. Carol Clark said she had made nametags for all new members but had not stuffed them yet into the badge holders. Edge Barnes announced that registration was open for the N.C. Potters Conference in March. Information about the conference was in the newsletter.

Vice President's Report and

Speaker: Jimmy Sodano and Frank Neef were absent. There was no program.

MEMBER QUESTIONS

from Angela Hayes...

I have been looking for a photographer to do professional pictures for submissions. Is there a good way to find one that has experience photographing pottery? I have seen work of a few photographers that looks good, but I am looking for great and with glossy glazes it is very difficult. So I am curious if other potters have found someone they really like they could recommend or is there a procedure known that would help me do it myself?

One more thing, I am looking to buy a new electric kiln this year and would like to know what brand other potters like. Right now I am only bisque firing in my electric kiln and want to upgrade to an automatic kiln so I can fire without flipping switches. I may want to glaze fire in the new one as well as bisque so do not want to limit myself by picking the wrong one. Has anyone fired an electric kiln to cone 10? Not saying I would ever want to, but if I blew up my gas kiln to the point of not being able to repair it, I may want to try cone 10 in the electric kiln. I wouldn't want to buy and mix all new glazes for another cone at the same time if I can avoid it. Any suggestions are appreciated. (Editor's note: please contact Angelia at ahayes2004@yahoo.com or send your suggestions to trianglepottersguild@yahoo.com and I will pass the info to her as well as to our membership.)
